

Amanda (Farley) MacFarlane comes from the small town of Alfred, Ontario and has a Bachelor of Arts from Brock University and a Post-Graduate Certificate from Georgian College.

Amanda has been an active volunteer for many years, most recently participating in several local festivals.

For her big-girl job, Amanda is currently employed by a local software developing company as an Executive Assistant. While at work, Amanda actively looks for ways to give back to the community, most recently in rallying coworkers to participate with flood assistance and helping to organize company events.

This is Amanda's 9th year with the festival. Previously, Amanda has served as Front of House Manager, Production Assistant, Assistant Stage Manager and Stage Manager for various stages.
